Dear Eric:

I am just back from a happy few weeks in Greece and am gradually picking up bits of unfinished business. You will recall that at the last Council meeting I spoke briefly about Robert W. Morris' collection of rare Islamic dinars and of Morris' suggestion that we try to find an "angel" who would purchase the collection more or less at cost, present it to the ANS and receive a profitable tax deduction. You asked me to give you a memo on the matter, which I believe I did. Have you, I wonder, ferreted out an "angel"? At your convenience could you drop me a line? How were the Galapagos?

With all good wishes to you and your wife,

Sincerely yours,

George C. Miles

Dear Mr. Morris:

My letter of March 12 may or may not have reached you. If it did get through and you have replied it will probably be some time before your reply reaches me, as the key-jobs of mail are a result of the strike isn't broken yet.

This afternoon I had a telephone call from the potential "angel" I mentioned in my letter of the 12th. He is Mr. Eric R. Newman, President of Nelson Brothers Stores, Inc., P.O. Box 4020, St. Louis, Missouri 63175. Mr. Newman has been a member of our Council (Trustees) since 1961. He agrees to buy your collection of dinars, hold it for a while and then give it to the Museum, possibly withholding a few coins that might duplicate specimens in our collection. As for the price, in your letter of December 23, 1969 you mentioned a figure of $50 per coin for an estimated 173 dinars. This would come out to $13,500. I don't know whether you included in that tentative figure the Arab-Syrianina dinars, which we subsequently bought from you. In any case you will doubtless name an exact figure and state precisely how many dinars are involved before closing the transaction with Mr. Newman. Therefore I suggest that you correspond directly with Mr. Newman, perhaps keeping me informed by copies of your correspondence. I am sending Mr. Newman a copy of this letter. Incidentally he leaves for the Galapagos Islands on April 30th, will return about the end of the month.

Mr. Robert W. Morris

Dear Mr. Newman:

Please refer to your copy of George C. Miles' letter of 27 March addressed to me. Before proceeding to the business part of this letter, allow me to add my gratitude to that of the A.N.S. for enabling me to accomplish an ardent wish that my Islamic dinar collection should be added to that of the Society. I regret that my personal financial situation simply does not permit consideration of a direct gift.

To the enclosed list of 471 dinars, I have added 23 specimens, nearly all of them from Arabian Peninsula mints. Because of a special interest in this area, I had intended to withhold them from a private sale, but am willing to include them in the A.N.S. deal if this meets with your approval. Almost without exception they are very rare, or even unique in several cases. An additional 8 specimens of the rare half dinars of the 'Abbasid governors of Yemen will include all the coins I was able to obtain from an important Yemen hoard (these duplicate specimens from the same hoard included in the Arabian Peninsula coins).

As noted in his letter, I quoted an average price of $28 per coin to Dr. Miles, which reflects my actual cost plus a nominal allowance for interest and inflation. Depending upon which groups of coins you wish to have included, the total price would therefore amount to $13,188 for 471 different coins, $13,832 for 494 different coins, or $14,056 for 494 different coins plus the 8 Yemeni hoard duplicates.

In view of your immanent departure on vacation, please do not take the trouble to reply to this letter at this time - you will no doubt wish to study the inventory before commenting. I shall prepare the collection for shipment and shall await your convenience upon your return toward the end of A April.

Sincerely yours,

Robert W. Morris

Dear Mr. Morris:

I am leaving, tomorrow, for a two-week vacation and wish to acknowledge your letter of March 31, 1970.

I want to make it clear from the outset that I must make the purchase involved without any commitment whatever as to their disposition. I certainly think that your whole collection should remain together and therefore suggest that the 502 pieces be the basis of the purchase.

I realize that the ANS would like to have this collection and you will have to leave that matter in my complete discretion. I fully understand what you would like to accomplish and I know what an opportunity it would be for ANS to study and/or own this extensive and unusual collection. Send them at any time you wish and include an invoice to which the inventory could be attached.

I am sure you have had an exciting time assembling this beautiful group and secured from it the intellectual and collecting satisfactions which many of us obtain from other series.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Morris has sent me a copy of his letter to you of March 31. Needless to say I am delighted that the arrangement is moving forward as planned. If you are agreeable I would like to suggest that you take the entire lot, that is 494 dinars plus the 8 Yemeni hoard duplicates; we can dispose of the latter after studying them. Incidentally, Mr. Morris writes me that he would be most appreciative if the settlement could be made as rapidly as possible as he is involved, as he says, in a "liquidity crisis".

I hope you are having, will have had, a wonderful trip.

Dear Mr. Newman:

Yesterday the dinar collection was shipped to you via air freight. As stated in the included invoice, the collection consists of the 471 coins originally inventoried, plus the following 31 coins:

'Abbasid: San'a 224, 257, 295; Zabid 342, 344, 346, 348
'Abbasid governors of Yemen, half dinars: 2 of Dhamar and 15 of San'a; these in addition to the 6 inventoried. The 23 coins are the major segment of an important hoard obtained from San'a.
Wajihid: Fractional dinar, 'Uman, no date.
Buwayhid: 'Uman 395, 4(2,3)6
Ziyadid: Zabid 349, 355
Great Seljuqs: Mint clear, but uncertain, year 457
Dynasty uncertain: Madinat al-Salam 547

The 502 coins listed represent my entire collection of Islamic gold, except for a very few unimportant duplicates which are in every case inferior to those included in the collection. I trust they will arrive safely and be awaiting you upon your return.

It is of course understood that upon consummation of the sale, the coins are your property and are completely at your disposal. As you suggest, I have certain hopes regarding their ultimate disposal, but there can be no question of any restriction upon your complete freedom of choice in this regard.

As you say, it has given me a great deal of satisfaction to accumulate this collection. Purchase of additional specimens has become an increasing burden recently, however, and I can now concentrate upon my silver and copper collections of the same period.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Morris:

Your beautiful collection of Islamic gold coins was picked up by me at the airport in view of the fact that the trucks in this area are on strike. A preliminary glance at the material indicates that there is little reason for me to check it thoroughly. Accordingly, I am enclosing my check for $14,056.00.

I am glad that you are continuing with your collection of silver and copper pieces of the same period and if you ever determine to dispose of those you might wish to advise me.

I had a wonderful vacation in the Galapagos Islands visiting the animals and the unusual plant life. They have survived for a million years without human beings intervention but now man is helping them to struggle against rats, goats, and wild dogs which man introduced. Fortunately, most of the islands are too dry and too austere for the survival of rats, goats and dogs and those islands are packed with birds, iguanas, sealions, etc. One thinks he is living in prehistoric times when he visits there.

If you ever come to St. Louis, please feel free to call on me.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Newman:

Your letter of 24 April arrived yesterday - thank you so much for your kind comments regarding the dinar collection. In all honesty I can now see no possibility of my Islamic coins in silver and copper ever being for sale. I do hope someday to give (or bequeath) a much augmented collection to the A.N.S. About the only coins I still retain and wish to dispose of are a fine collection of Axumite coins in all metals, all of which I obtained either in or directly from Ethiopia. Should you have any interest in these I should be glad to send further details.

Your Galapagos vacation sounds fascinating - I fear I have tended to neglect the western hemisphere in my travels, but the Galapagos Islands have always ranked with Macchu Pichu and Teotihuacan as places that must eventually be visited. Unfortunately, only the last has actually found a place in one of my itineraries to date. Now that I think about it, I believe I first really became aware of the Galapagos through reading one of Darwin's books - probably Origin of Species. At any rate, it is good to know that real efforts are being made to preserve a biological province of such unique interest and importance.

Although I attended graduate school at Washington University some twenty years ago, a long residence abroad has precluded much travel in the U.S. since then and I doubt that I would recognize very much in St. Louis today. If a long-planned and long-postponed visit to your city should eventually materialize, it would be a real pleasure to accept your kind invitation to call.

Sincerely yours,

Robert W. Morris

Dear Eric:

Your request for a list of possible duplicates in the Morris/ANS collections of Islamic dinars presents problems. In many cases where Morris' inventory contains references to my "Some Early Arab dinars" I know there will probably be duplication, but in no case would I be able to say so categorically until I see the coins themselves. The largest amount of duplication will be among the Umayyad and early Abbasid groups; very little in the other classes. I have already attempted to check Morris' list against our holdings, but I have had to give it up without knowing what the full inscriptions are. Of course I will get at this as soon as possible after I see the Morris coins. It is very cheery news that you plan to bring part of the collection here on June 25 or earlier.

All the best,

Always sincerely,

Dear Mr. Newman:

I believe Dr. Miles has mentioned the subject of this letter to you, so that it may not come as a surprise. If you are still interested in the purchase of my collection of early Islamic silver and bronze coins, they are available. The collection consists of 2,226 different types and varieties, as itemized in the enclosed inventory. In addition, there are 694 duplicate AR from four hoards which I acquired essentially intact and which I believe of sufficient interest and importance to deserve being kept intact. The figures in parentheses in the inventories represent different issues or varieties of the same date and mint. The number of coins in the collection is perhaps 10% greater than the 2226 listed varieties, as any duplicate which shows additional details has been included, but not counted in the inventory. This represents my entire Islamic collection, except as follows:

1. Some ANS duplicates obtained by exchange.
2. About 300 - 500 duplicates, all inferior to the collection specimens.
3. Three 'Abbasid dirhams of al-Yamamah, which are of very special interest to me, plus one more included in No. 1 above.
4. Miscellaneous AE and AR, only a few of importance, found by me in the Saudi Arabian desert.

5.50

As regards price, I am asking $5.50 each for the 2226 different varieties, plus a nominal $1.50 each for the 694 duplicate hoard specimens, making a total of $13,284.00. Should you wish to purchase the collection, and if it would not inconvenience you in any way, it would be of some advantage to me to consummate the sale during the present calendar year.

With kindest regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Morris:

Thank you for your nice letter of November 22, 1970. I was out of the country and for that reason did not have an opportunity to write you earlier.

I appreciate the fact that you have changed your mind with respect to selling your collection of Islamic silver and bronze and I would like to acquire the collection on the basis you indicate.

You state that you prefer that the sale be consummated during 1970 and I will be glad to cooperate with you for that purpose.

It is important that you send to me all of the information which you have concerning the hoards which are included. These should definitely be written up. If you have begun that project or wish to complete it, that would be most enthusiastically welcomed but otherwise I would like to ask other scholars to proceed with that work. Any suggestions you have along these lines are more than welcome, as you know. If you will send the pieces by air freight, in the manner you previously did, I will pick them up at the airport and remit to you after a preliminary examination.

I appreciate having first opportunity to acquire these pieces and hope that at any time you are passing through St. Louis that we might talk about some of your exciting experiences in acquiring them.

You may be interested in the fact that I have done considerable research on the Imaum of Muscat in connection with an 1804 Dollar being included in a set of United States coins presented to him by the American Trade Representative, Edmund Roberts, in 1835.

Did you notice in the paper that a large quantity of Arabic gold and silver was unearthed by Russian archaeologists in a mosque destroyed in 1220 by the Mongols?

Kindest regards.

Fars Hoard

This hoard of several hundred Buyid dirhams first appeared in Shiraz, Iran. From there it came to Isfahan, in two distinct (but unquestionably associated) lots. These were kept apart until it became obvious, on every conceivable criterion, that they belonged together. Purchased from Isfahan in 1968, there is some suggestion that the hoard may have been found the previous year, although the Isfahan dealer obtained it in 1968. The place where it was found is unknown, except that it was Fars province. This is confirmed by the coins.

From Yervand Nahapetian, Isfahan

Tell Kuchuk hoard

This was purchased and found in 1968. The Beirut dealer from whom it was purchased still had one section of the hoard on his desk when I first saw it. He stated, and it was obviously true, that he had just then obtained it. It had been found by two brothers in Syria, who had divided it and, traveling together, brought it to Beirut for sale. The dealer stated that he thought he could obtain the other half of the hoard from the other brother, and that same afternoon did so. Again, the two sections were kept apart until it became perfectly obvious that they belonged together. The hoard was found at a place known as Tell Kuchuk (or Tell Kushik on some maps) in the northeasternmost corner of Syria, very near the 'Iraqi border. The hoard consists mainly of 'Abbasid coins the latest being dated 322, but also has a number of Samanid dirhams and one each of the Tulunids and Saffarids. Many rarities from the mints of the Syrian marches.

Dear Mr. Newman:

Thank you for your most considerate response to my previous letter. Confirming my telegram, the collection was shipped yesterday via air freight. I enclose an invoice for your records, together with such information as I was able to obtain regarding the hoards.

I fully appreciate the importance of obtaining all possible information regarding the provenance of hoards and regret that it is usually less than one might wish. As you are probably aware, most middle eastern dealers are reluctant to discuss antiquities in general and hoards in particular, in much detail. I believe all finds must theoretically be turned over to the government in most countries, but as no compensation is paid, it seems hardly surprising that this seldom happens. The entire matter is customarily discussed in a rather circumspect manner, and information is usually difficult to obtain (or very often unavailable from the dealer). Anyhow, I'm enclosing such data as I have, and I can at least assure you of my sincere belief in its accuracy. The coins themselves tend to independently substantiate such information as I have in all four cases.

You will note that those coins in the main collection which came from hoards which I acquired intact are so indicated on the envelope. Also, each has a black "flasher" at the top of the envelope for quick identification.

As regards my publishing some of the material, I very much appreciate your thoughtfulness in this regard, and I must admit that you have touched a very sensitive nerve, as I have promised myself for many years that I would publish some of my material. I still have hopes of doing so with some of my Saudi Arabian finds, both Islamic and pre-Islamic, but frankly the record books ill for such hope. My entire technical bibliography consists of four titles, none over 30 pages and none on coins. I believe on the basis of previous correspondence that Dr. Miles might be interested in publishing the Tell Kuchuk hoard; the Fars hoard of Buyid dirhams would be of interest to Dr. Roy Mottahedeh, who might be willing to undertake publication. I have no suggestions regarding the Ghodhlanayah hoard, but I might mention that it is remarkable both for its large number of rarities and for its superb preservation and lack of wear, which make it almost ideal for metrological studies. The Resht hoard of Tabaristan henidrachms is perhaps the least important of the hoards, but I know of no published hoard of such coins, and it is well preserved. Even so, it may not be worth publication - I'm sure Dr. Miles could advise on this point.

I must apologize for the unorganized state of the Fars and Tell Kuchuk hoards - frankly I have never completed work on them and do not even have records, aside from the coins themselves, of the total numbers involved.

No, I had not heard of the large Russian hoard. So many finds turn up each year in the Middle East, most of them dissipated and unreported, that I am continually fascinated by the thought of the material that remains to be found. I would guess that close to 10,000 dirhams, mostly of the fourth century H and earlier, go through the Beirut market each year. These come mostly from Syria and the number remaining to be found must be simply fantastic.

With kindest regards,

R. W. Morris

Total 42 dirhams

Most of the following AE are the large "dirhams", usually with figures. These are difficult to list in significant detail, but the collection represents a selection from many hundreds over many years and, I believe, is an exceptional collection of these interesting coins.

Gentlemen:

It is my pleasure to give to you a collection of 323 gold Islamic dinars consisting of the Umayyad and Abbasid dinars listed on the schedule attached to this letter. I have already brought the coins to your vault and I am now pleased to add them to your fine cabinet. I hope this will encourage additional research and publications in that field.

I am grateful for your listing and fair market valuation of the group of dinars.

I hope you will not give any publicity to this gift other than the routine treatment of the matter in the Society's publications and the Council.

Very truly yours,

ERIC P. NEWMAN

Dear Mr. Morris:

Thank you for your detailed letter of December 10, 1970.

The collection arrived in good shape but I have not had the opportunity to inspect any of it for the present. I appreciate very much the information with respect to the hoards although I did not realize they had been found so recently. It is amazing to me that so many dirhams are constantly found in Syria.

I am enclosing my check for $13,284 in accordance with your letter, and thank you, again, for the opportunity of acquiring them.

Very truly yours,

Dear Eric:

Your note of December 14 is at hand. I defer to your judgment but in my opinion, in the unlikely event that the IRS should ever question the "fair market values" of your gifts (specifically the dinars), they would probably not look with favor on appraisals made by such an interested party as the "Curator of Islamic Coins" of the American Numismatic Society. Our annual statements to donors of the value of their donations are signed by the Secretary. Wouldn't it be better to let it ride that way pending any possible questioning of the Society's appraisal? If the occasion should ever arise I would of course be fully prepared to defend my appraisals and if necessary get an independent, and I am sure, confirmatory, opinion from an American or European dealer.

Yours always sincerely,

George C. Miles

Dear Mr. Newman:

Please excuse the delay in acknowledging receipt of your check for the collection of Islamic AE and AR. In addition to the normal activity of the holiday season, the opportunity arose just before Xmas to lease the home where we had been living, enabling us to move into another which we had purchased some time ago. Anyway, in the flurry of activity involved in the sudden move, I fear that all correspondence, even including the usual cards, was neglected.

I find that I inadvertently omitted one coin from the collection, probably one of the most important, despite the fact of its having been broken and repaired and despite the uncertainty of both mint and date. I refer to a dirham of a Kharijite rebel, one 'Ubaidah, whom Dr. Miles has tentatively identified with a person of that name who lived in the late second century (A.H.). As a result of our recent move, the coin is now stored away, but as soon as I am able to restore a degree of order to our new home I shall forward it to you.

I was also amazed when I first realized the scope of the Syrian finds. At first, in my naivete, I tried to purchase every hoard I could obtain, but soon realized that the resulting mass of common material simply wasn't worth keeping intact. Such desirable accumulations as the Tell Kuchuk and Ghodhlan-iyah hoards are of course the exception; indeed these two are the result of a dozen or more trips to Lebanon (plus one completely fruitless trip to Syria, where everyone is afraid even to mention antiquities). Besides the coins, Beirut is the market place for vast quantities of Roman glassware, ceramics of all ages, fascinating late Hittite figurines, considerable Hellenistic material, etc. Although one must deplore the wholesale looting of the past that obviously is taking place, it does make for interesting browsing! Incidentally, the San'a dinar hoard was actually purchased in Beirut, but I have little reason to doubt the word of my dealer friend who told me it had been purchased in San'a by a Syrian government functionary who (despite his presumed political beliefs) brought it to Beirut for profitable sale.

I do hope I haven't bored you with these few details of "the hunt".
Best wishes for 1971.

Sincerely yours,

Robert W. Munn

Dear Mr. Morris:

Thank you for your letter of January 6, 1971

In view of the fact that an item at the Boston Museum has been seized, I wonder how far the problems of that nature will proceed.

You certainly must have had a lot of fun seeing the fascinating material which turns up at the markets.

As to your inadvertent omission of one of the rare coins in the collection, I certainly respect your frankness with respect to it and look forward to its receipt as soon as the logistics of moving are completed.

My kindest regards.

Dear Mr. Newman:

Although I fear I must apologize for the delay, I have at last located the dirham of 'Ubaidah which I previously mentioned and I am transmitting it herewith, along with a Samanid dirham of Muhammediyah, which, although it is not completely legible, may be of interest to Dr. Miles, in view of his study of this mint.

Free time seems increasingly difficult to "come by", but I have made some slight progress in the study of an unknown dynast, represented by AE, AR, and billon coins issued in his own name and found only at a single site in eastern Saudi Arabia. It appears that he, or a person of similar name, ruled Qatif Oasis prior to the Qarmatid conquest, according to a much garbled publication of a recently discovered manuscript. Anyhow, aside from this, my numismatic activities have been almost nil in the last few months.

Best regards,

Robert W. Morris

Dear Mr. Morris:

Thank you for the two dirham. I will take them to the American Numismatic Society within a month as I plan to give a lecture there. It was most thoughtful of you to send them.

My research has slowed up a bit of late but I hope to revive it shortly. I am involved in the American Numismatic Association authentication program, the American Revolution BiCentennial Coin and Medal Panel, etc. which detract from the time available for research.

Dear Eric:

Michael Bates and I have at last finished boxing and labeling the collection and I have completed estimates of "fair value". Most of these appraisals can be taken as definite; in a few categories (specifically the copper) they are preliminary, but I think they also will be pretty close to the mark. I have excluded from the totals all the specimens you listed which you wished to withhold.

Dear George:

In the appraisal list which you were nice enough to send me, there was included 57 Hacht Heard duplicate half dithems. I believe these were on the list of those I wished to withdraw. Naturally, you can study them as long as you wish. The withdrawal list contains 13 single copies and the two groups of heard duplicates. Will you be nice enough to recheck that.

Incidentally, the total of the pieces should be 3058 and the total of the appraisal should be $24,963.05. Would you be nice enough to recheck.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Eric,

Your most welcome letters of July 26 arrived today and there is great celebration not only in the Oriental department but throughout the building. Margaret Thompson will write you separately but I want you to know how grateful especially Michael Bates and I are, as it is our department that has been so enriched by this bonanza.

I realized that you wanted to withhold the Resht hoard duplicates and included them on the list only for completeness sake. With regard to the total number of pieces, you are right, the total is 3058, not 3057. As for the appraisal I had the figure double-checked on the tape and we still come up with $34,865.

Your present gift of 1657 coins amounts to $22,419 and we are accessioning this lot as No. 71,316.

The detailed lists and appraisals of the various lots are being typed up and will be forwarded to you in due course.

With all good wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Newman,

I am enclosing herewith detailed lists of the Islamic coins which you donated to the Society on July 26, 1971, together with the appraised value of each piece. You will note certain minor discrepancies between our original count and evaluations and the present lists. These differences are the result of a re-count and of detailed examination of all the coins.

A summary of the contents of the separate lists follows:

220 Arab-Sasanian silver	$ 3662.-
364 Umayyad silver	4450.-
87 Miscellaneous Minor Dynasties, silver, lot 1	1025.-
24 " " " " lot 2	650.-

Dear Margaret:

When I was recently in New York I picked out twenty-five change notes of the 1790 period which were duplicates in the A. N. S. collection. I already have all of them in my collection but would like to obtain these additional ones in the hope of using them for trading. The choice ones which I previously obtained were valued at $35.00 each. The present group is in much poorer condition and I would value them at slightly over $15.00 each in bulk, or a total of $400.00.

If you would like to take the first four Tulunid Dinars, valued at $400.00 on my list of Arab gold prepared by Dr. Miles, please do so. I would then like to give the balance of the Arab gold to the Society.

Kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Eric:

I understand from Margaret Thompson that in your telephone conversation of September 21 there was some question as to where we stand with regard to the remainder of the Eric P. Newman collection of Islamic coins, resulting perhaps from Michael Bates' letter of September 13, in which he wrote that you had decided "to give us most of the remaining coins of the ¹⁹⁷¹ ~~Moss~~ ^{Moss} Collection this fiscal year....". What was meant of course was the gold.

I have reviewed the situation and find that what we still have in custody, but not donated by you to the Museum, consists of:

The Tell Kuchuk hoard (384 silver), valued at $4000.00.

Resht hoard duplicates (56 silver), which you had in 1971 indicated you would like to have back eventually.

The various individual silver and bronze coins which you listed in your 1971 memorandum as ones which you would like withdrawn from your several lists.

Margaret tells me that you were interested to know how we were getting along with the publication of the several hoards. I am afraid the answer is that at the moment we can report "no progress", both Michael Bates and I being so pre-occupied with various prior commitments. But we will do something about them eventually, deo volente.

September 26, 1972

There is one puzzle remaining. You will recall that you placed little "x" slips in the boxes of three Ziyadid fractional gold pieces (335, 342 and 355 H.), indicating that eventually you would like to keep these. Now the boxes with the paper "x" slips are in the tray containing the other coins you want to keep, but the boxes are empty. Is there any possibility that during one of your visits we handed these over to you?

I have been told by Margaret and Michael that you have most generously presented the rest of the gold to the Museum "in my honor" (I almost said "in my memory", but I am happy to say that I haven't quite attained that distinction yet). You are very thoughtful, and I can't begin to express to you my appreciation of this very significant token of our friendship and of our association with the ANS. As you know I "retire" on September 30, but I am afraid they are going to have a hard time getting rid of me altogether for some time to come.

With warm wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

George C. Miles

Dear George:

Your letter of September 26, 1972 is at hand. I find that the three Ziyadid pieces are in my possession, so you may throw the X slips away and remove the boxes from the tray.

I think I should give during this year, the 384 silver Dirhams in the Tell Kuchuk hoard. Would you write me a separate letter as to their valuation and I will write you a separate letter of donation.

I leave it up to you as to whether you think the remaining items which I have reserved should remain in your possession since there are no immediate plans to study them, or whether I should bring them back here. There are approximately 43 of them, plus 56 in the Resht hoard, and 61 of the Chodhlaniyah. If you care to, you can make a list of all those which are in this Society's possession if you determine to keep them for a while.

Thank you for taking care of my little cookies.

Dear Mr. Newman:

Let me first thank you for your generous gift of the 384 dirhams of the Tell Kuchuk hoard. I trust that you will have already received our official acknowledgement of that gift. I definitely plan to see it and the other Newman hoards through publication as soon as possible, but it will take some time to ensure that they are properly published.

There remain in our possession three lots of coins belonging to you. The first is the 56 Arab-Sasanian dirhams of Tabaristan from the Resht hoard.

Secondly, there are the 43 miscellaneous coins which you wish to retain for your own collection. A detailed list of these coins is enclosed. A number of these coins are not otherwise represented in our vault, including a few which I believe to be unique. Naturally we would like to keep them here for as long as you care to entrust them to us. Also, if you should wish to sell or otherwise dispose of them in the future, I hope you will allow us to acquire those which are new to our collection.

Thirdly, there is a lot of 39 miscellaneous coins which were left over from your gift of 29 July 1971. These coins had to be withdrawn from that gift to make all the figures come out right. A detailed list of these coins with fair values based on those given to similar coins in 1971 is enclosed. I hope you will want to add this small remainder to your previous generous donations.

In your letter of 3 October you mention 61 Ghodhlaniya hoard coins. I am afraid the Ghodhlaniya hoard was not kept separate from the other Umayyad dirhams in your collection, and was included in your gift to us of 29 July 1971. However, each of them is identified in our trays by a special tag so that the hoard can be reconstituted for future study. Our policy now is to keep hoards separate from the main collection until their publication, but unfortunately this was not done in 1971.

Perhaps if you visit us for the 11 November Annual Meeting we can discuss all this in greater detail. Incidentally, there will be special festivities at that meeting in honor of Dr. Miles, although he doesn't know about it yet. I hope to see you then.

Yours sincerely,

Gentlemen:

Thank you for your nice letter of October 26, 1972.

First, I would like a current and separate appraisal of the Tell Kuchuk hoard of 384 Dirhams. I have the acknowledgment of the gift.

Second: With respect to the coins which I wish to retain in my collection, I would like for you to make notations on the enclosed photocopy of list of those coins which ANS does not have and of those which you believe are unique. I have no thought of disposing of those coins by sale or otherwise but I appreciate your interest in the ANS having them.

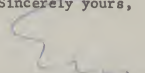

Third: As to the miscellaneous lot of 39 pieces, I would like to look these over. They probably resulted from two coins being in one envelope.

With respect to the Ghodhlaniya hoard coins, I now understand they were already given to the Society and therefore the Society should keep them.

I am hopeful to be able to come to New York on November 11, but cannot be sure at present.

Dear Mr. Newman:

My apologies for not answering your letter sooner. I had held off writing hoping to be able to discuss these matters with you at our Annual Meeting last Saturday, and have not been able to get to it since then.

I cannot immediately provide you with a detailed evaluation of the Tell Kuchuk dirhams. The gift value for these 384 coins as entered in our accession book was $4,000.00, as per Dr. Miles' letter to you last summer. I doubt that there would have been any significant appreciation of these coins in the few months since then.

On the enclosed list you will find the four coins which are not found in our collection marked with red x's. I believe only one of them is actually unique, the Buyid dirham of Shiraz, 395.

The miscellaneous lot of 39 coins results from the fact that in checking over your gift of 29 July 1971 we found that in certain categories there were more coins in the trays than were listed on the evaluation sheets we sent you. It seemed best to us, to avoid complications, that we hold back from your gift enough coins to make the figures come out right. I don't know how the errors originally arose, but there is nothing special about the 39 remaining coins. They were selected quite at random, except that in a spirit of self-interest we tried to choose only the more common pieces to withhold from your gift.

I am sorry all these little problems seem to keep popping up. I appreciate your patience in this almost as much as your generosity in making it possible for us to acquire this fine collection.

Yours very sincerely,

Michael L. Bates

I am having sent to you today separately by registered mail two of the three groups of coins belonging to you which have been in our vault. These are the 43 coins on the list sent to you on 26 October 1972 headed "Coins Owned by Eric P. Newman in the Custody of the American Numismatic Society," and the 39 coins on the list sent to you on the same date headed "Excess Coins from Gift of Eric P. Newman, 29 July 1971." The coins are in labeled envelopes, separated into the two groups with a slip of paper in each group identifying it.

I have checked over each group carefully and found the first group, the coins you wished to retain for your own collection, exactly as on the list. In the second group, selected by us as excess coins from your gift of 29 July 1971, there are however three changes from the list sent you. First, two Umayyad dirhams of Wasit, 115 and 116, were taken out of the lot, as it was found that they were part of the Godhianiya hoard, which I assume you would not want broken up. They were replaced by dirhams of Wasit, 117 and 119, from that same gift.

Second, on the list there is a Rūyid dirham of M. al-Salām, 334. This notation on the list was evidently taken by me directly from the box label, as the coin I found in the box at this time is an 'Abbāsid dirham of the caliph al-Rādī, M. al-Salām, 329. I don't know how this misattribution originally occurred; it was probably an error by our typist when the label was prepared. In any case I have been unable to find any unaccounted-for dirham corresponding to the box label, so I send you instead the coin I found in the box. None of these three changes affects the valuations of the coins.

we sent the 3rd

The third group of coins belonging to you is the so-called "Resht board duplicates." I had never handled these coins until recently, and had thought them to be all alike. Looking at them now, I find them to be coins of a variety of governors and dates. These coins ought really to be identified more precisely and recorded so that the board can be reconstructed someday for publication. If you agree, I would like to keep them a little longer for this purpose. The task should not take long.

In our past correspondence I have referred to 56 coins in this latter group. Some time ago I was going through the empty envelopes and boxes in which your coins came to us, and found in the bottom of one of the boxes nine loose coins which presumably came from this lot of Resht board coins. So, the total in this group now comes to 65 coins.

I hope all this is satisfactory. I am at your service for any assistance I can give you.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Newman:

I have today sent to you separately by registered mail the 65 Arab-Sāsānian half-dirhams of the Resht hoard. Attributions of the coins are on the envelopes.

The Wāsiṭ dirhams which were changed had not been selected by you at all, for condition or otherwise. They were selected by us from a lot of coins which you donated to us in 1971, when we found that the number of coins in the lot somewhat exceeded the number you had specified as your gift. The exchange involved only the substitution of two coins selected by me for two other coins selected by me at an earlier date. All four coins were in quite good condition for the type.

You are quite right about the Buyid dirhams, at least insofar as according to Dr. Miles' handwritten record of the coins you wished to withdraw for your own collection, there were supposed to be two dirhams of Shiraz, 363 H. There are several Pars hoard dirhams of Shiraz, 359, and of 363. I don't know which of them were the ones you originally selected; all seem to be in about the same poor condition. If you like, I can select what seem to me to be the best of these for you, or you can pick them yourself on your next visit.

I would like to propose another alternative, if you don't mind. I would be willing to let you select any three dirhams from our collection, from the Buyids or any other dynasty, provided only that the dirhams are roughly comparable in value to the three dirhams you originally selected, and that they are duplicates and not from an unpublished hoard. This would be entered in our book as a formal exchange so that the three coins you receive would be accounted for properly. In this way you will have three coins to your liking, and I can keep the Pars board intact for publication.

As for the mystery of how the substitution happened, I can contribute nothing. You will remember that the arrangements for the withdrawal of certain coins for your own collection were made between Dr. Miles and you. As far as I know, the coins you withdrew have been in a special tray in the vault since Dr. Miles put them there. Finding the original envelopes would be of no help, since we have no way of knowing which of several identical coins was in which envelope.

Let me know what you want me to do in this.

Yours sincerely,

Mike

Dear Mr. Newman:

At Miss Thompson's request, I am sending to you a letter for your signature acknowledging the receipt of the 147 coins belonging to you which had been in our custody. I have noted in the letter that you returned two of the coins which were not those you had originally selected, and that you are entitled to three dirhams in exchange as per the original list of your coins.

Our receipt of this letter will enable us to close our file on your temporary deposits. Thank you very much for your trouble.

Yours sincerely,

Gentlemen:

This will acknowledge receipt from you of 149
Telamio coins (112 AP; 35 AB) which have been on deposit with the American Numismatic Society on temporary loan.

Please note, however, that two silver coins have been returned to you which were not my property, and that

Dear Mr. Newman:

I have selected three Būyid dirhams from our collection which I am sending to you today separately by registered mail in exchange for the two dirhams you sent me last autumn.

The condition of the coins is not first-rate, but they are definitely superior in relation to the general run of Būyid coins, which are not usually well struck.

I hope the coins are satisfactory. If there are any further problems, please let me know. I have written full attributions of the coins on their envelopes.

Yours very sincerely,

M. L. Bates

P.S. I have just learned, or rather been reminded, that Miss Thompson is absent on a lecture trip and will not return until this Thursday. Since I am treating this transaction as a formal exchange between our collection and yours, her approval is necessary, so I will not be able to send the coins until she returns. I have previously discussed the matter with her and assume her approval will be given.
